Project update

In September and October 2022 the E-ROUTES team is planning two meetings of the partners and associated partners. These will be the first meetings of all partners since the official start of the project in July this year.

The September meeting will be online and is intended to be the preparatory meeting for the October two-day gathering of partners in Belgrade. We are planning to practically steer the project and its implementation during the meeting in Belgrade, which is scheduled for 6-7 October 2022. Serbian Library Association will be the host in Belgrade. The E-ROUTES team will publish a report about this meeting at the Project's website, so stay tuned!

 E-ROUTES geographic interest is the 4 countries that make part of a well-connected region in terms of historical paths and modern highways. But it is not limited within the borders of Italy, Slovenia, Croatia and Serbia.

The project has a wider European perspective, which also includes all European authors writing about their experience of travel through the mentioned lands from the 18th c. until today.
